SCOTTISH FA

[Image of various people engaging in sports activities]
The Scottish FA published Scotland United: Scottish Football's Disability Future 2012-2017 in April of 2012. The National plan was the first fully published Scottish FA Para-Football strategy with the aim to build on the work carried out since the creation of the Scottish FA Para-Football Development Officer role in 2005. The strategy aims were to create a structure in Scotland that would allow players to reach their full potential.

The strategy was developed from Scotland United 2020 vision and developed areas within

- Sustainable Participation
- More Talented Players
- Scotland Winning
- Future Team Growth
- Home of Great Coaches
- Elite Referees

Scotland United; Scottish Football's Disability Future strategy created many positive actions and programmes which have enabled an environment to be created which has allowed the strategy goals to be achieved. A full review of this strategy can be found on page 24.

The Scottish FA aim to continue the development or Para-Football in Scotland, to maintain and establish partnerships and continue to create an environment where everyone can flourish.

The Scottish FA will spread 5 key messages within our Para-Football programme that will support people living with a disability:

- Social Change
  Para-Football promoting social change for people living with a disability and the sport becoming a source of good
- Inclusivity/Community
  Para-Football allowing people living with a disability becoming an integral part of their community and being included within community life.
- Health
  Para-Football being a catalyst for people living with a disability to become more physically active more often and make life changes to support healthy living which will allow opportunities to stay active throughout life.
- Empowerment
  Para-Football giving the opportunity for people living with a disability to be empowered within their sport and community and make effective contribution to their opportunities.
- Equality
  Para-Football providing bespoke opportunities for people living with a disability to gain access to activities and competitions similar to their mainstream peers and allow pathways to reach their full potential.

PlayAbility...Our Game is the Same will deliver on these key messages by concentrating on five pillars of development, each looking at a specific area of the game which will allow growth and progression within Para-Football within Scotland.

- Participate in the Game
- Supporting Coaches
- Competing on the International Stage
- Opportunities to Compete

Long Term Player Development (LTPD)

The Scottish FA is committed to support players as well as coaches within Para-Football. It is vital to create an environment that each participant can flourish and have the opportunity to reach their full potential. To achieve this, the Scottish FA has developed the LTPD model specially designed for Para-Football. The model allows coaches to understand the type of training and the expectations that should be placed on players at a coach education level of the LTPD model. The Scottish FA Para-Football LTPD model will be implemented throughout our Para-Football coach education and structure of activities.

The Scottish FA Para-Football LTPD model does not differ greatly from previously designed LTPD models for mainstream sport, which has been published in Scotland. The model continues to refer to the key stage titles:

- Desire to Play
- Learning to Play
- Developing the Player
- Prepare to Compete
- Preparing to Win

The main alterations come from the removal of ages linked to each of these stages. This is due to the complex nature of Para Sport and varying levels of ability across these characteristics. This has been replaced with a progress pyramid system. This system allows a player to move through the LTPD model depending on the stage of their playing development from come and train sessions through to International Football competition with each stage linked to Scottish FA coach education pathway.

The Scottish FA para football LTPD model has included additional stages in the process:

- Awareness
- First Contact
- Football for Life

These three new stages are designed to create a greater environment for individuals and one that they can flourish throughout.

As players work through the development pyramid, they continue to add to the skills they have learned and implemented into their football game. As players continue on their journey, coaches can add new challenges and information while not forgetting to reiterate on the previously learning skills and techniques.

Awareness

Sporting activities for people with a disability to participate within are not always widely known to the general public. The purpose of the awareness stage is to promote these activities within the club/local area. This can be achieved through partnership with local agencies or through media promotions. In the event of an individual who has acquired their disability, the sporting opportunities which were previously open to them may no longer be suitable, and the transition period may be difficult. The individual may not be aware of the football opportunities which are open to them.

Awareness plans can help to ease this transition and offer an important support mechanism to this individual.

First Contact

The purpose of this stage is to ensure an individual, with a disability, has a positive first sporting experience which creates a love for sport and encouragement to continue playing. To ensure in the success of the first contact stage is for coaches to identify the stage LTPD model the player should enter. Players can enter at any stage depending on their previous involvements within sport or the level of disability.
This is to ensure players are supported or challenged to the correct level. It is vital that coaches can identify if players may be better suited to other Para-Sports and have a greater opportunity to reach their full potential within other sporting environment. The overall goal for this stage is to help new players to feel confident and comfortable in their new environment.

Desire to Play
The first playing stage of the LTPD model and links to the first stage of the development pyramid “Come and Train”. This stage is for players attending training sessions with no desire for further development or with a player on the first rung of the ladder hoping to progress within their football life. Players should be coached at a Scottish FA level 1.1 working on the fundamentals of the sport, ensuring fun is integrated throughout.

Learning to Play
As the player progresses in their football journey and develop into a regular club attendance the individual moves on the building block of the LTPD model “Learning to Play”. The player should begin to be working towards competitive opportunities and should be coached at Scottish FA 1.2 level working on introducing Game Related practices and co-ordinated games.

Developing the Player
As a player increases their playing level and capacity for playing the game, the training should be based around game situations. As a player begins to play regular matches the coaching should be based around the Scottish FA 1.3 coaching course and within attacking and defensive principles of the game during varying game situations.

Preparing to Compete
Competitions and competitive play require players to be more adept within game situations and need to react to multiple elements of the game. The Scottish FA level 2 award will develop the player’s ability to link aspects of the game together and well as begin to develop team shape and formations.

Preparing to Win
Players who develop into International level competitions need to continue to progress and require to be prepared for high level competition. Players will require to work within phases of the game and specialise within the areas of the game. Players will work to UEFA B Licence content and above, including specialist fitness programmes to ensure full preparation for International matches.

Football for Life
Football does not stop on the pitch and there are many aspects of the game take place without the football. It is vital that Para-Footballers remain within Para-Football after they stop playing. Players should be encouraged to take on one of a number of roles within the game and begin to give back to the sport.

The Scottish FA Para-Football LTPD model will be embedded within the new structures and will continue to develop throughout the course of the PlayAbility...Our Game is the Same and will become a fundamental element of Scottish Para-Football in the future.
